The Jockey Club Refuses to Grant an Extension of Time-Rumored that the Virginia Club Will Withdraw from the Parent Body After Next Monday - A. Bend Hent Between Vold and Plenty Prince George Beats Derfargilla.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20, The news received Club would not grant the Virginia Jockey Club an extension of time, did not come in the nature of a surprise. The stockholders of the club hoped that they could keep their gates open until Jan. 1, but they knew that at best It was a forlorn hope. Rumors are flying about the corridors of the hotels to-night. It is currently reported that after Monday next the club will secode from the parent body in New York, and that the outlaw will be welcomed at St. Asaph. Secretary Mc-Intyre was aroused out of his bed and asked to explain the position of his organization. He

You know you can't stop some people talking, no matter what you do."

Secretary McIntyre will neither deny nor affirm the story, and it was evident that he was worried, for there has been more or less friction in the management of late. At a late hour to-night the following despatch was received by Treasurer J. M. Kirk of the Virginia Jockey Club:

Evening papers state that the Virginia Jockey Club will race through December. Is this so? Please W. S. Vossumuit. Virginia Jockey Club:

It is not known what answer, if any, Treasurer Kirk forwarded to the racing Secretary of the Jockey Club. It is certain, however, that the Kirk forwarded to the racing Secretary of the Jockey Club. It is certain, however, that the officials from the Jockey Club now doing duty at St. Asaph will quit work the instant the course becomes outlawed.

Several of the men who signed a paper circulated at the track this afternoon thought they were putting their names to an appeal to the Jockey Club to reconsider its decision. They have no idea of becoming outlaws and will stick to the Jockey Club.

The racing to-day was very exciting. Void and Plenty running a dead heat at six and a half furiongs. Void was the favorite at short odds at the outset, and carried thousands of dollars for M. F. Dwyer and other heavy speculators. For the run-off Void was still the favorite, and as much as 3 to 1 was offered against Plenty. "Koapsack" McCarthy's gelding surprised the cunning people by coming back in 1:23%, which was the time of the first heat. Penn rode Plenty in good style, making the pace warm from the start, and Blake could never quite get up to him in the bonestretch.

M. F. Dwyer lost very heavily on Void, but he got a great deal more back than the sum he lost when Prince George and Wernberg won their repective races. Prince George met "Pittsburgh Phil's" Derfargilla at seven furlong a the race being specially arranged for the pair at ten pounds below the scale. Mr. Dwyer thought Prince George could beat the mare, but Phil was equally sure that the chestuat daughter of Onondaga would certainly hold Mr. Croker's speedy four-year-old. Each bet a large amount, Prince George closing favorite at 7 to 10. Both Simms and Doggett had waiting orders and the first half mile was run in 4s seconds, with George a length or so in the van. Simms got the jump on Doggett when they began racing in dead earnest, and riding a very strong finish he managed to win by a good open length. The last three furiongs were covered in 37% seconds.

Ella Reed, the odds-on favorite, won the opening race for two-year-olds in a common gallop, after making her own running. Rodman B. was second was headed by the 40 to 1 chance, Andrews, who beat the gelding a head, thanks to Lamly's strong finish.

There was a real good thing in the second race, at a mile. Assignee was an odds-on first choice, his race against Our Jack being good enough to make anybody fancy him, particularly as Simms had the mount instead of Richardson. Assignee and Prig were head and head a half a mile from home, and it looked as though they would have the finish to themselves, Griffin, however, shot out of the bunch with Equity, the smart mare that Mr. Cassatt raced so successfully under the management of John Huggins. This mare is always at her best in the late fall, and she simply smothered her field, winning with Griffin's hands on her withers and with many pounds of speed in reserve. Assignee conquered Prig in a drive for second money.

The next race was the Plenty-Void dead heat. For the two-year-old dash which followed, Chicot, Asia, and Minerva were played at 206 to 1. Buckeye came in for more support than any of the others. The 100 to 1 chance, Flash, and the Irogien gelding at 20 to 1 ran head and head to the upper turn, where there was a lot of crowding. Asia, ridden by Willie Midgley, fell. Chicot, Asia, and he nipped Flash just at the Rinish. The Irogien gelding was a close third. Midgley escaped with a few slight wuser forgen and the simply ran on top of the others and threw himself down. Tribe, on Buckeye, had to pull out to escape Jumping on the boy as he lay on the track. The accident probably cost Buckeye tile race, for he ran through the stretch like a wild horse.

Wernberg, at 1 to 3, ran the five-furlong dash, which brought the day's sport to a close, in wild horse.

Wernberg, at 1 to 3, ran the five-furlong dash.

Wernberg, at 1 to 3 ran the five-furlong dash. which brought the day's sport to a crose, in 1:0154, and it is unnecessary to state that he won easily. The two-year-old flip Owiet was second throughout, while Prince John was never more than third. Summaries: FIRST RACE.

Harvard's Great Player Wrenches Sis An-CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 20,-The secret practice of the Harvard eleven this afternoon was marked by the first serious accident in several weeks.

C. Brewer, who is the main reliance of the team behind the line, wrenched his ankle so badly that he had to be carried off the field, and was taken to Boston in a back. The accident ocvarsity had played a hard game with the second eleven, and were working up the plays

The 'varsity had played a hard game with the second eleven, and were working up the plays that will be used against Yale. Capt. Emmons called out: 'One play more and that will be enough for to-day.'

In this play Brewer turned his ankle, and he will now be unable to play before Saturday, if he is then. The injured ankle is his right one, and the same has given him trouble before. As he always kicks with his right foot, it is feared that it may affect his punting in the Yale game, even if it does not lessen his usefulness as a running half back.

The coaches are reticent and will only say that. "Brewer was alightly injured, but will be all right in a day or two."

The accident has had a depressing effect on the students, for Brewer was the best ground gainer Harvard had, and if the injury proves serious Harvard's chances of winning will be materially diminished.

Trainer Lathrop stated to-day that the other players are in excellent condition and the moving of the quarters to Woodland Park Hotel has proved to be a wise step on the part of the coaches, as the players are sleeping well and are in every way benefited by the change.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 20 .- Much to the surprise of the students and public at large, the practice of the Yale football eleven was open again today; and about 1,500 persons surrounded the gridiron and watched the play with interest. It was the last line-up of the team against the scrub players before the great game next Saturday. To-morrow and Thursday, there will be no opposition play, and the practice will consist of rehearsing tricks. In to-day's practice Heffle-finger and Dr. Hartwell donned their football suits and played on the scrub eleven against Beard and Capt. Hinkey, Fresh-ball suits and played on the scrub eleven against Beard and Capt. Hinkey, Freshman Rodgers played at right tackle in place of Murphy, and Litton was put in for the last half of the afternoon at full back. The quarter backs were Armstrong and Milis. Thorne and Jerrems are taking a rest, the former having a sprained ankle, and the latter being trained down very fine, having been kept constantly at work for the past two weeks.

The coachers certainly appear confident that Yale will win the game, and their main object seems to be to keep the players in just the condition that they are in at present. One reason given this evening why the training has been practically cut off is that the ground is frozen hard and injuries might follow if the men continued hard playing.

The betting contingent in the college do not relish having the gates of the field thrown open to the public and fear that the team work of the eleven will become known to the Harvard watchers. This, however, seems hardly possible, as it was not known on the campus until noon to-day that the practice would be open. Jean Richards again coaching the backs, and George Adee of New York was an interested spectator.

The date for the Yale-Harvard freshmen game has not yet been settled, and there is a good chance that the Yale youngsters may meet their Princeton cousins instead of Harvard. The Harvard freshmen have been quibbling over the date for the game, and unless they come to an understanding with Yale within a day or so the Yale managers will ask the Princeton freshmen to meet the Yale freshmen want to postpone the game until Dec. 1, but Yale does not care to do that, as this will bring the contest so late in the season.

Union and Syracuse Teams Will Meet Today for the Champtonship. SCHENECTADY, Nov. 20.-The Union College football eleven will play their last championship game with Syracuse University at Syracuse to morrow. Union's victories thus far have been as follows: Beat Hamilton victories thus far have been as follows: Beat Hamilton by 96 to 0 and Rochester by 92 to 0. Syracuse has besten Hamilton by 52 to 0 and Rochester by 28 to 18. The Union team has been very fortunate up to last week in avoiding serious accidents, but last Thursday Beckwith, the left tackle, fell in a scrimmage and broke the small bone of his leg. Peters, sub half back, has been playing in Beckwith's place, and in the Rochester game playing the last not use of the season.

Orange and Princeton Play To-day.

This afternoon the Orange Athletic Club and Prince on University football teams will play at the Orange Oval, East Orange, game to commence at 3:30 o'clock. This will be the last game of the season at Orange, and will also be the last opportunity of seeing the Princeton team play in this vicinity before the Yale game on ton team play in this vicinity before the Vale game on Dec. 1. The game is being looked forward to with no little interest, inasmuch as Capt. Trenchard will play his best men against crance. It will also give a splendid opportunity of should find how much in-portunity of the companion of the companion of the Pennsylvania. Combieratio change has been made in the Princeton make up, which has strengthened the eleven very materially. eleven very materially.

The Orange learn will make a most determined fight to score against Princeton, and, judging from the splendid team work against Cre cent on Saturday, their chances are very good, while the Princeton score should be a low one. There has been a big demand for seats, and the largest crowd of the season will doubtiess watch the play.

PRINCEPON, Nov. 20.—The Princeton football team practised to-day with the men arranged in the new way, with Taylor at tackle and Rhodes at guard. The work was good, and was much smoother than was expected so soon after so many changes. Ward is making a reliable quarter tack, and will in all, probability play in the Yale game. The team will very probably be weakened by the loss of More. It is very fixely now that he will not be able to play against Yale. Since his severe cold before the Pennsylvania game he has found it impossible to get into condition to play, and he is meditating going out of training for the senson. The strength of the new arrangement of the players will be tried to morrow against the Orange Athletic Club's clover at Orange, N. J. The following will be the line-up: Smith and Temphard, ends, Holly and Taylor, tackles: Rhodes and Wheeler, quartis, Riggs, centre: Ward, quarter, Harnett and Rosengarten, halves; Cochran, full back.

BARNIE WILL BRING SUIT.

Charges Against the League of Conspiracy

William Barnie, one of the men auspended by 'treachery" for complicity in the organization of the new American Association, arrived in town from Chicago yesterday. Barnie denied in toto the charges brought against him and made some interesting comments on the situa-tion. He declared, among other things, that he would not appear before the National Board, because its members had already convicted him without a hearing, but he added that there were higher tribunals before which his case would be tried with equity and justice. In short, Barnie has piaced his case in the hands of counsel, and will bring charges of conspiracy, persecution, and defamation of character against the various persons who were instrumental in working the Lesacue boycott. To The Sux reporter Barnie said:

"I have been identified with baseball for twenty vears, nineteen of which I have spent as a manager, and never before has any charge been brought against me that could in any way reflect upon my integrity and honor. This action of the Lesgue in suspending me is merely to frighten off those League players who were thinking of joining the new association, and it has partially succeeded. But the League can't frighten me. I propose to fight, and I have placed my case in the hands of lawyers who will bring action at once for damages.

"I wouldn't appear before that National Board for anything. I could get no justice. I am willing to submit my case to an unprejudiced committee which will arbitrate the matter, and if I and adjudged guilty of wrongdoing I will retire without a word. But I don't propose to be persecuted."

How the Eastern Clubs Combined.

On Wednesday, Oct. 19, The Sux published a story to the effect that the League men were on the alert to check the progress of the new American Association and intended to hold a secret meeting in this city. This was denied in vehement terms. The Sux reporter yesteriay learned from a most reliable source that the meeting was held just the same, although the magnates kept their tracks well covered. It is said that two nights after the story in The Sux delegates from the Eastern clubs of the League held a secret conference at E. B. Talcott's private residence and mapped cut the policy pursued by the Eastern clubs in the recent League meeting.

If was agreed to make a combine by which the New York Club would have the ten percent, payment to the League abolished, and the Philadelphia Club would pull through the new scheme for a division of receipts in quakertown.

If the direct question is put to a B. Seden and John I. Rogers if is improbable that they will deny that they were at Mr. Faicott's house on the night in question, Brish, Byrne, and Von der Roget were all in the city at the line, but they were apparently outside the breastworks. TROUBLE AMONG A. A. U. ATHLETES. The New England Association to Disband

BOSTON, Nov. 20,-The A. A. U. bas instructed George W. Beals the representative of the B. A. A. to call a special meeting of the New England A. A. U. and disband the local association and then reorganize with ten of the leading clubs of New England. This was announced after the committee meeting at the B. A. A. this afternoon. For a long time the B. A. A. Committee has felt that some measures must be taken to keep athletics from going to the wall, and this fact was brought more prominently before their notice when John J. Flaherty of the Gloucester A. C. resigned from the Board of Managers of the N. E. A. A. U., or rather refused to allow his club to again present his name for office. During the cham-pionship games on Holmes Field last fall Beals said that the B. A. A. would withdraw from the said that the B. A. A. would withdraw from the A. A. U. at the next meeting. At the last meeting of the Athletic Committee of the B. A. A. it was voted to withdraw, and notice was sent to the A. A. U. at New York.

A meeting of the central body was held in New York Monday evening and the communication from the B. A. A. caused a sensation. Beals was urged to request his club to reconsider the matter. He returned to Boston in time to attend the committee meeting at which the matter was again gone over, but this time it was with the knowledge that they had the support of four of the strongest men in the A.A. U. and their club was backed by Sullivan, Curtis, and others who are a power in the amateur ranks.

NEW YORK WING SHOTS IN CHICAGO.

The Match Setween Page and Work and Brewer and Carver May Be Called Of. CHICAGO, Nov. 20 .- J. Seaver Page and George Work, the clever New York wing shots, are, it is said, greatly put out because of the publication of the facts concerning their match to shoot against Dr.W. F. Carver and Capt. J. L. Brewer. the famous professionals. An inquiry to-night at Mussey's billiard rooms, where the shooters make their headquarters, for any further development in the proposed contest was met with the statement that Messrs. Page and Work were greatly opposed to any notoriety in the matter.

"He was here Saturday last, was he not?"
"Yes."
"He shot a match with Dr. Carver under the assumed name of Roland?"
"Yes, just for fun. It was a friendly sweep-stakes of twenty-five birds each, for $25 a side, and then for ten more birds, for $10 a side. Page didn't want his name mentioned; that is the reason he called himself Roland. Dr. Carver, in to-day's shooting, defeated a local sportsman in a contest shooting at 100 birds each, killing $2 to his opponent's 78."
Capt. Brewer is here still, and it is understood that he and Dr. Carver will be matched for next Saturday at Watson's Park for $200 a side.

A WICKED ACT OF A GROOM. He Admits Having Dosed Rey El Sants
Anita During the Season.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20,-To-day "Lucky" Baldwin discharged his private stable groom, who has had personal charge of Rey El Santa Anits for several sessons. The reason is that the man was found dosing the animal just before he was led out to the track. This discovery makes clear one of the mysteries of the past racing season, and exonerates Baldwin from the reproach of jockeying those who bet on his fa-vorite horse.

reproach of jockeying those who bet on his favorite horse.

It will be remembered that Rey El Santa Anita, on several occasions in Kentucky, performed like a rank selling plater, coming in near the last horse, and yet when the American Derby was run at Chicago he won. The men who lost good money on Rey El Santa Anita in Kentucky made a big noise and tried to get Baltwin ruled off the tracks, claiming that there was an understanding between him and his jockey. These criticisms stirred up Baldwin so much that he changed his jockey and quarrelied with his trainer. Yet no reform was made, and even out here the animal could not be depended upon. He ran in and out all the season. season.

To-day, however, the secret came out, when the horse was discovered to be dosed. The groom, under pressure, admitted that he was standing in with a ring of gamblers, and that they had profited by the dosing of the horse.

Beginning of the Fox Hound Derby. OLYMPIA, Ky., Nov. 20. The inability of the Derby entries to find a fox prevented good sport to-day. Master of Fox Hounds Anderson of Cincinnati blew a blast of the horn at 8:30

Cincinnati blew a blast of the horn at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and the start was made. It represented a cavalry in line of march, for there were about 100 horsemen in the procession. When the judges reached the hunting grounds they ordered down the Derby entries, which were as follows:

A Ware's tow, Strater Valley Kennels's Genneso, W.S. Walker's Strive, W.S. Walker's Fannie, T. J. Hagan's White Nose, and T. J. Hagan's White Toes.

A local guide who was presumed to be familiar. Again's white Soso, and T. J. Hagan's White Fors.

A local guide who was presumed to be familiar with the country undertook the task of leading the hunters, and he took them through a country which ordinarily could only be founded in a balloon. It is doubtful if a fox track was found, although neveral of the pupples cried a trail of some kind.

although several of the pupples cried a trail of some kind.

It was impossible for the judges to determine anything by the work done, and they ordered the dogs up and the party returned to the hotel hig Strive, time, and White Nose did the best hunting although the work of all the pupple was creditable. The judges ordered the dog out again at 4:30 o'clock, and owing to the small number of entries they will endeavor to determine the winners to-night.
